Dedication

As a slight token of appreciation for eight years of service as our Principal and Superintendent, with regret for the passing of daily association, and with best wishes for years of happiness and service in the new field of labor, this book is dedicated to our friend—

Ward S. Bowman

Foreword

THE PURPOSES OF EDUCATION

The development of a strong mind in a healthy body.

A mastery of those fundamental processes that are essential to success in every walk of life.

The development in knowledge, the acquisition of positive habits, and the growth in efficiency that are necessary in making a living.

A development in culture sufficient to assure a liking for, and an appreciation of, the better things in life.

A preparation in good citizenship that will assure the championing of things that are right and the condemnation of things that are wrong; a citizenship that will express itself in a life of service to home, school, and country.

Senior Class History

In the fall of 1926, one hundred and ten green Freshmen entered the Arlington High School, but after a week of wandering around the halls we finally became accustomed to our new surroundings.

The first class meeting was held in October. Syd Pautzke was elected President and Dot Skillingstad Vice President.

The painful event of our first year was the Freshmen mixer, which was enjoyed by all upper classmen, but at the expense of the Freshmen.

After becoming full-fledged members of the A. H. S. we participated in the activities of the school, including different clubs and sports. We had the honor of winning second place in the Interclass Basketball tournament.

Then, to show our gratitude for the Mixer, we entertained the Sophs at a successful Freshmen-Sophomore party.

When the summer vacation was over, we came back to pursue our studies under the important title of Sophomores. This year Thelma Evans was our President. Sad to say, during this term nothing much of importance happened, because we were deeply engaged in our studies. But when spring came, we awoke from our long sleep, and won first place in the Interclass Basketball Tournament.

The Junior Year was a peppy one. First, we carried off the banners for Salesmanship. This was accomplished by getting a high percentage in Associated Student drives and ticket sales. It was a happy day when both Home Rooms, nine and ten, got one-hundred per cent in the Annual Drive. To top all these activities, we again won first place in the Interclass Tournament. We had about five letter winners in athletics, in which Carrol Jacobson was an inspiration to the rest of the team.

To balance our athletic activities we also participated in scholarship awards. Thirteen, but not unlucky Juniors belonged to the Torch Society.

One of the major events of this term was the Junior Prom, given in honor of the departing Seniors. This proved to be a huge success.

In 1929, we returned again to complete our High School career. The Seniors had a major part in athletics, there being ten football lettermen, and five letter winners in basketball. That the third time is a charm proved to be true, because again we won highest in the Interclass Tournament and the Interclass Track.

This was also a year of Salesmanship. We had one hundred per cent in the Associated Student Drive and Annual Sales. The Senior girls showed their dramatic abilities by winning first place in the Girls' League Vodvil.

The second semester was one of numerous activities. We chose "Expressing Willie" for our Senior Play, and it was very successful.

Then after laboring for four years we enjoyed the privileges of going on a Senior Sneak and—Oh, Boy!

Senior Class Will

In the name of God, amen. We, the Senior Class of Arlington High School, City of Arlington, County of Snohomish and State of Washington, of the age of four years, and being of sound and disposing mind and memory and not acting under menace, fraud, ardent spirits or any other spirits, or under the influence of any person whatever, do make, publish and declare this our last will and testament, in the manner following:

ARTICLE I

Certain members of our honored group have requested that certain character traits which they no longer need, but which will compensate for grave deficiencies in certain lower classmen be given to the needy ones. We have not only granted this but allowed each bequeather to write his own will as follows:

Section 1. I, Stanley Robinson, do bequeath my girlish giggle to Eunice Bowman.

Section 2. I, Andrew Olson, do bequeath my manliness to James Hauschildt. With this added power I believe James will be irresistable to women.

Section 3. I, Peggy Shudshift, do bequeath my graceful figure, beautiful blond locks and dancing grace to Helen Verd.

Section 4. I, Howard Mickelson, do bequeath my wavy locks to Jack Peterson in order that he may receive full value from the application of Stacomb.

Section 5. I, Dorothy Skillingstad, do bequeath my sweet voice and clear enunciation to Rose Donovan to replace her southern drawl. (Miss Donovan is not, however, an underclassman. Pardon our carelessness.)

Section 6. I, Ailene Sampson, do bequeath my baby face to Maxine Stout.

Section 7. I, Helmer Ness, do bequeath my magnetic charm to Earl Carnes. I believe this will relieve Earl of worry concerning his grasp on Martha.

Section 8. I, Bessie Shequin, do bequeath my athletic build to Lila Aldridge.

Section 9. I, Rollen Speer, do bequeath my patent on my very distinctive haircut to Marcella Meyers.

Section 10. I, Frank Arnot, on account of my Scottish descent, do not wish to give away any of my characteristics unless paid a reasonable price for them.

Section 11. I, Everett Bundt, do bequeath my attractiveness in the eyes of Freshmen girls to Charles Mathews, who, try as he does, cannot win the heart of one of those precious fawns.

Section 12. I, Sydney Pautzke, do bequeath my good looks, winning smile and tender heart to Leonard Pittman. I do this that Agnes may be loved, cherished and cared for while I am away at college.

ARTICLE II

Section 1. We, the Senior Class, do bequeath to Anna Lunnum a broadcasting station capable of working on a large variety of wave lengths, enabling Anna to broadcast a message to any student without disturbing the entire high school.

Section 2. As a convenience, we will the services of Robert Boursaw, Oswald Clauson, Rollen Speer and Raymond Prather to install the set, which will arrive at Earnhart's bicycle shop in time for the fall term.

ARTICLE III

We, the Senior Class, do bequeath to Jack Frame the latest model hand-operated foamite fire extinguisher. The fine quality, tough elastic foam emitted from this instrument will prove of value in offsetting the high coloring which results from a blush and will also offset any tendency of the cuticle to burst into flames because of the heat generated in the blushing process. In the future, when Jack feels a blush coming on, all he need do is reach for the foamite.

ARTICLE IV

We, the Senior Class, do leave to Mack Barnett, our beloved class advisor, a contract with John Wrage, which we believe will be a godsend to him. The contract demands that Mr. Wrage deliver ten (10) quarts of milk daily to Mr. Barnett's doorstep. We have arranged that delivery start immediately, fearing that he might disappear entirely if the present state of affairs should continue for over a fortnight. We also leave him full right to substitute Virginia La Flamboy and Nona Peterson for Dot Skillingstad and Bessie Shequin for his daily conversation in the halls.

ARTICLE V

We, the Senior Class, do bequeath Miss Susman a case of Ovaltine, so that Mr. Hartz will not seem such a monster in her dreams.

ARTICLE VI

We, the Senior Class, do bequeath Mr. Hartz, our new superintendent, a hammer, screwdriver, and pair of pliers. Mr. Hartz will find these instruments indespensible in repairing the master clock located in his new offices.

ARTICLE VII

We, the Class of 1930, do nominate and appoint Les Williams, President of the Junior Class, as the sole executor of this, our last will and testament.

ARTICLE VIII

The foregoing instrument, consisting of 5 pages, including the page signed by the testater, was at the date thereof by Frank Marsh (representing the Senior Class), the maker thereof, signed in our presence, and in the presence of each of us, and at the time of his subscribing to said instrument he declared it his will, and at his request and in his presence, and in the presence of each other we have subscribed our names as witnesses thereto.

PEGGY SHUDSHIFT, residing at Silvana in said county.

RALPH FRALICK, residing at Haller Avenue, in said city and county.

Signed and sealed this twentieth day of May, the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty.

Senior Prophecy

AILEEN SAMPSON—Her adorable baby face placed her in the hall of fame in Hollywood.

BARBARA BLAIR AND GLADYS MAIN are running an old maids home in Renton. ZELMA LARAMA is their chief inmate.

ANNA MANGIS AND PEGGY SHUDSHIFT are now making their debut on Broadway dancing their way to fame.

DOT SKILLINGSTAD AND VERA LAWSON are now on the concert stage. Dot is playing the accompaniment to Vera's singing.

JEANNETTE CUSHEN is now washing clothes for a living.

ANNA CARLSON is Charley Thomas' secretary in the Skidless Banana Co.

DOT HART is keeping house for Carley, she is very happy.

ALTA MAE JACKSON AND ETHEL CATTERAL are now reforming the heathens of Seattle.

CATHERINE JOHNSTONE is book salesman for the Webster Dictionary Co.

HELEN KRAUSKOFF AND HILDA WAHL are experimenting with school teachers. They want to perfect fat jolly ones instead of lean crabby ones. So far Jackie Frame is the only one who has responded successfully to their treatment.

BORGHILD GILBERT is the Dean of Girls, taking Georgia Harris' place, who had been pensioned off by the school board in the Arlington High.

ALICE JOHNSON is running a matrimonial bureau in Edgecomb.

RUTH LOWE is traveling in the United States as the spokeswoman of the W. C. T. U.
AUDREY THORSEN—Head nurse in the Arlington General Hospital.

AMA TYLER is cartooning for the Arlington Times.

DORIS DEWITT is selling a patent medicine guaranteed to take the kink from curley hair.

KATHRYN NICKERSON is the head clerk in the Edgecomb annex of the Bon Marche.

LEONA KRONHOLM—Mascot for the University of Washington crew team.

EVERETT BUNDT—Testing mattresses in the Simmons Mattress factory.

ART ABERG—Touring Europe and lecturing on "The High Price of Peanuts in Denmark; or "The cost of Copenhagen must come down."

BILLWINSOR—Dog catcher for the thriving young metropolis of Bryant, his highest hopes are soon to be realized, for he is about to be appointed Chief Collector of Stray Cats.

JOHNNY REDEEN—Head street cleaner of Art Orser's Corner.

HELMER NESS—Has been persuaded by Mr. Barnum and Mr. Bailey to join their circus as the world's thinnest man.

SYD PAUTZKE—Has been given the congressional medal of honor for revising the code of etiquette so that it is now correct to pick your teeth in public.

STANLEY ROBINSON—Acting as a specimen for Mayo Brothers in Rochester. He has won high honor for giving them the dope on just how long one can walk on crutches without losing all ability to walk.

RAY PRATHER—He is now training in Europe, preparatory to his chosen career, singing in the Methodist Choir in Silvana.

LUKE TYRELL—Influential Farmer of Trafton, raising spuds, corns and kids.

RALPH FRALICK is scheduled to box Gene Tunney. He is lovingly known to all his friends as "One Round Fralick."

ROLLEN SPEER—He is now head bishop in the Church of Aimee Semple McPherson.

JOEL ABBOT—Very successful as Dean of the School of Charm in Mukilteo.

FRANK ARNOT—He is now the fifteenth husband of Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

FRANK MARSH—He is editing that always popular magazine, "Whiz Bang."

HOWARD MICKELSON—Dancing instructor at McAlroy's Spanish Ballroom.

CARROL JACOBSON—He is now sole proprietor of the Jacobson Beauty Parlor, specializing in red hair.

ANDY OLSON—Swedish candidate for President of the United States.

BOB BOURSAW—He is now taking Doug Fairbanks place in the affections of Mary Pickford.

CHARLEY THOMAS—Successful young business man, manufacturing skidless banana peelings.

Senior Play

"Expressing Willie," the Senior play presented in the High School auditorium on the nights of Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10, proved a great success, financially and dramatically.

This sophisticated comedy concerns the romantic affairs of Willie Smith, a young millionaire, who is giving a house party at his Long Island home. He invites his new found friends to this party. Unknown to him his mother invites an ex-sweetheart of his, Minnie Whitcomb, a music teacher from his home town. Minnie innocently tries to get Willie married to a divorcee, Mrs. Sylvester. Willie's mother wishes him to marry Minnie, her idea of an ideal girl. However circumstances so turn out that the scheming divorcee, Mrs. Sylvester, goes away, and Willie and Minnie are happily married.

The cast of Seniors, ably coached by Miss Gwendoline Showell, is as follows:

Minnie Whitcomb	Bessie Shequin
Willie Smith	Bill Winsor
Mrs. Smith	Ruth Lowe
Taleaferro	Syd Pautzke
George Cadwalader	Carrol Jacobson
Dolly Cadwalader	Peggy Shudshift
Frances Sylvester	Dorothy Skillingstad
Simpson	Roy Pearson
Reynolds	Rollen Speer
Jean	Velma Larama

Football

Prospects for the 1929 football season were good with fourteen lettermen returning from the previous year. However, Hoidal, star backfield man, was unable to participate because of a cut ankle, which kept him out of play until late in the season. Also Williams, another backfield man, was out of some of the games because of injuries.

In spite of these handicaps the Eagle football squad, under Coach Harold Shidler's instructions, made a good showing.

About fifty-five boys turned out for football at the beginning of the season. Coach Shidler issued strict training rules and held skull practices in the mornings. The hard work caused the attendance to drop, until there were about thirty-five permanently turning out.

Les Williams, captain, was voted the most inspirational player this year, and Martin Hoidal was elected captain for next year. The school is proud of all her players, who fought hard throughout every game.

With twelve lettermen returning, prospects for next year are bright. These veteran players with new material coming from the underclassmen, should provide a team of which Arlington will be proud.

COACH HAROLD SHIDLER.

This is Mr. Shidler's second year with Arlington High. In these two years he has greatly helped the athletic organizations of the school to become a greater success.

MARTIN HOIDAL (Captain-Elect), Halfback.

Though out of most of the games with a lame leg, Mart played excellent football in the later part of the season. He will be one of the best men for material for the coming year.

BILL WINSOR, Guard.

Winsor proved himself a very dependable guard, doing good work throughout the season.

CARROLL JACOBSON (Jake), End.

Playing his last year in high school athletics, Jake was the savior of many situations. His work in knocking down passes and running interference was especially good and his presence will be missed next year.

JACK JOHNSTON, Quarterback.

Small but scrappy, Jack had the stuff and showed it. Jack returns for more.

LUKE TYRELL, Halfback.

Luke and his sturdy figure have been an important cog in our eleven for two years. He was always a sure ground gainer and an accurate tackler. He goes with the class of '30.

LES WILLIAMS (Captain), Fullback.

Les, playing his second year of first team ball, was an outstanding star of the team. He was battling every scrimmage and ended a successful season. One more year for Les.

RAY PRATHER, Guard.

Ray was heavy and slow, but had a wealth of nerve. When he went after his man he brought him down and could always be counted on to do his part. He is leaving this year.

WARREN BOWMAN (Fat), Tackle.

From the start of the season Fat played a steady game. Few plunging backs got by his tackling, while he always did his part in opening up a hole. He was green but with a year of experience behind him his next year should be good.

EARL CARNES, Quarterback.

Earl always snaggled his man and was a bulwark of defense and a tiger on offense. His help on next year's squad will be welcome.

ELMER ERICKSON (Eric), End.

Eric holds down one of the wing positions. This is his second year on the team and he will be one of the best men for material for the coming year.

HOWARD MICHELSON, Halfback

Though not so big Howard was an able half and his wiry form was seen in many scrimmages. Howard will not be back.

EDDIE OBERG, Tackle.

As one of the heaviest men of the team Eddie finished a very successful season. With two years of football ahead of him he should develop into a star.

CHARLIE WRAGE, Center.

Charlie played as an alternate for this year, whenever he was in a game he was giving all he had. Charlie has still another year with us.

FRANCIS JACOBS, Tackle.

He played a tackle position and did very good work. He will be back next year.

FRANK PULLIAM, Center.

At the center position this year was Frank Pulliam. He is a veteran of last year's team and always good in the game. Frank's football career at Arlington Hi. is over.

CLARENCE FOWLER (Red), Guard.

Red was an aggressive and tireless linesman. He could open holes or plug them at will. We will see him again next year.

FRANK MARSH (Mush), Halfback.

Frank packed a wicked pigskin when he found a hole and many yards can be credited to his ground-gaining ability. Frank graduates.

SYD PAUTZKE, End.

Syd was a fighter through and through. If anyone got around Syd's end he was a mighty good man. Syd leaves this spring.

PAUL WESSON (Blackie) Guard.

This is Paul's second year. He played a good game and will be back for next year.

BOB BOURSAW, Tackle.

Heavy, reliable and always game, Bob proved a great linesman. He was a man of great value to the team. He is leaving this year.

HERB CLARK, End.

Herb was always ready to do his stuff and is back again next season and a great deal is expected from him.

STANLEY RODAL AND GORDON DUSKIN, Mgrs.

Small but efficient, these two boys helped make this a very successful season.

Basketball

Basketball results this year were better than usual. Out of the eight league games played, Arlington won four and lost four, placing third in the A League. For the first time in a number of years the Eagle basketeers qualified to play in the County Tournament held at Snohomish.

In the tournament the breaks were against Arlington, and the Eagles lost in their first game with Monroe 24 to 21. In the Edmonds game we also lost. This was the closest game of the season. Three extra periods were necessary to determine the winners. These two losses excluded the Eagles from further tournament play.

With only three lettermen back from the preceding year, Coach Shidler proceeded to build a team that developed into a speedy, smooth-working combination. In nearly all of the games the scores were very close, proving that the Eagles were equal to the rest of the league teams.

Unfortunately besides Winsor, Seigel, and Tyrell graduating this year, we also lose two other valuable men for next year. Frank Pulliam, captain for this year, will be too old to participate, and Warren Bowman will move to Seattle for next year.

However, with three experienced players, two of them with two years of experience behind them, coming back next year, the Eagle basketball team should win its way into the tournament again.

1929-30 Schedule

Edmonds	16	Arlington	12

Arlington	17	Marysville	12
Arlington	29	Stanwood	17
Arlington	17	Monroe	12

LES WILLIAMS, Forward

Playing in both center and forward positions Les proved to be one of the most valuable men on the team. His shooting chalked up many points for Arlington. Les will be running in fine form for next year's five.

JACK JOHNSTON (Captain-Elect), Forward

Although hindered by sickness throughout the season, Jack was a tireless worker and always gave all he had. Jack will be back next year to captain the team.

FRANK PULLIAM (Captain), Forward

Playing for the last time as forward on Arlington's basketball five, Frank held down his position as captain in true Eagle form, fighting on the floor in a manner which only one of his experience and spirit could. Almost throughout the season he was high point man.

JOHN REDEEN, Guard

Not very big, but one who is in the game fighting with all he has all the time. John is a guard possessing the ability to out-guess his opponents and break up their plays. He is a senior and will not be back next year.

NORMAN SATHER, Guard

All Norman lacked was experience to make him a real star. His head was seen in the thick of a tussle. Norm has two more years with us.

LUKE TYRELL, Forward

Never complaining, always trying and giving his best, Luke has made a name for himself at Arlington High. This is his last year.

GEORGE SIEGEL, Center

Joining the ranks for the first time in his school career, George soon proved himself to be one of the best Arlington had to offer. Filling the shoes of Les whenever necessary, he played as pivot man in his best style. This is George's last year.

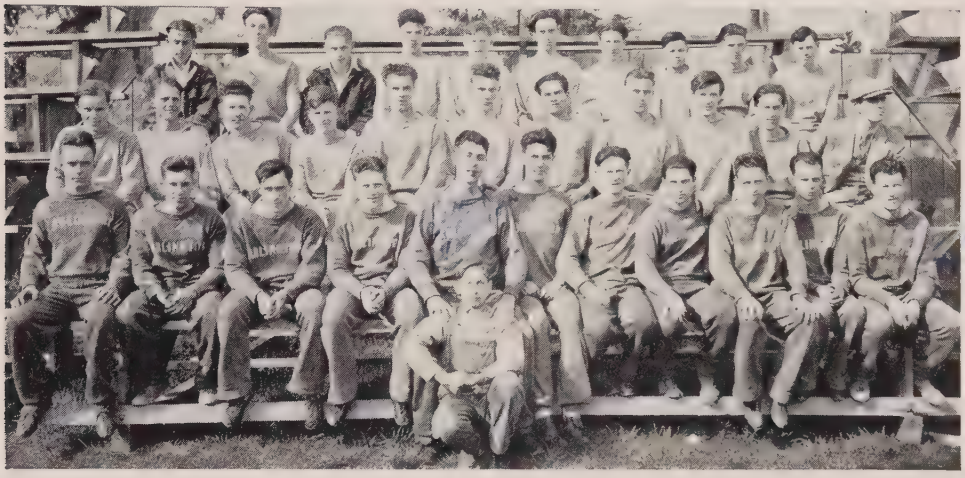
WARREN BOWMAN, Guard

Every inch a fighter, Fat checked through the season brilliantly. Fat will be performing again next season.

BILL WINSOR, Forward

Always ready to take up where the others left off, Bill was a valuable man. He could hold his own among the best of them. Bill graduates this June.

Bill Winsor



Track

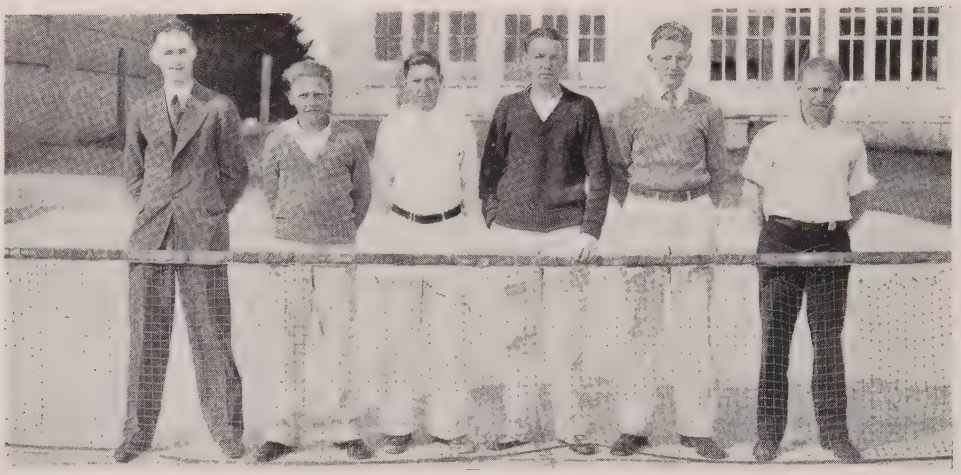
Arlington track met with good success this year. Arlington participated in three meets before the county meet. The Arlington track team, with many men back from last year, won all three.

The first was with Mount Vernon and Anacortes on April 5. Arlington scored 56 1-4 points, Mount Vernon, 38 1-2; and Anacortes, 31. The second was with Monroe and Buckley. Arlington won easily with 68 points; Buckley, 36, and Monroe, 21. The third was with Burlington, Monroe, and Coupeville.

In the county meet here on May 3, Everett, by winning the relay and acquiring a total of 34 points, won. Arlington took second with 31 points, and Snohomish third with 26. Snelson, running the mile in 4:48 bettered the former record of 4:52 3-5.

Arlington sent six men to the district meet at Mount Vernon. Of these two qualified to go to the state meet: Thomas in the 220-yard dash, and Williams in the broad jump.

With many lettermen coming back next year, Arlington should do as well or better than this year.



Tennis

The Arlington High School Tennis team completed a season, which, though not all to be hoped for, was more successful than last year's.

Five matches were won, four of which were singles. The first doubles, however, were the only ones who got past the preliminaries in the county tournament.

The team consists chiefly of underclassmen, and in a year or two should make itself heard from in the county tournament.

A large part of the success with which the team met, is due to the advice of the coach, M. F. Barnett.

The Singles were:

Virgil Peterson

Jim Hauschildt

Doubles:

Bill Murphy and John Redeen

Amel Tveit and Lowell Beath

—Jim Hauschildt.

Girls Athletics

Girls' athletics, a prominent feature in the activities of the high school, has completed a most successful season.

The first part of the year was spent in playing speedball. Sports day was held at Snohomish on October 11. The girls who make the first squad were: Dorothy Guthrie, Clara Maurstad, Vivian Dooley, Helen Verd, Alyce Dunn, Evelyn Olson, Bessie Shequin, Eleanor Russell, Irene Hoidal, Alice Johnson, Louise Eberhard and Ruth Shannon.

The next sport was volley ball. Sports day was held at Sultan, January 11. The girls on the first squad were: Bessie Shequin, Dorothy Guthrie, Peggy Shudshift, Phyllis Underwood, Hazel Knights, Wilma Nold, Louise Johnstone, Eleanor Russel, Olive Botten and Eunice Bowman.

Basketball was the next diversion, sports day being held at Arlington, March 15. Peggy Shudshift, Alyce Dunn, Nora Botten, Dorothy Thorsen, Irene Hoidal, Evelyn Olson and Marcella Meyer formed the first team.

The later part of the year was devoted to track, baseball, and tennis. The track meet was held at Snohomish, May 12.

Much of the credit for a successful year is due to the coach, Miss Georgia Harris.

Girls Interclass Athletics

Girls' Interclass athletics this year were in the form of volley ball and basketball.

The Sophomore girls won in volley ball and the second period class won in basketball.

INTERCLASS ATHLETICS

Interclass Basketball

The annual interclass basketball series, which introduces the basketball season, resulted in the usual victory for the Seniors. The first games which were between the Seniors and Sophomores, and the Juniors and Freshmen, were both won by the upper classes. The climax of the series came on the third day when the Seniors and Juniors staged a classic battle for the championship. The surprising feature of the whole series was the showing of the Freshmen against the experienced upper classes. The game scores were as follows:

Seniors	13	Sophs.	11
Juniors	27	Frosh	14
Seniors	14	Frosh	13
Juniors	20	Frosh	8
Sophs.	11	Frosh	10
Seniors	14	Juniors	13

Interclass Track Meet

At the close of the basketball season attention was turned to track. The interclass meet, which ushered in the season, was won by the Senior class, with the Juniors placing a close second, Sophomores third, and with the Freshmen failing to score any points. Winsor, of the Senior class, who was ineligible for county competition, was high-point man. No new stars appeared, but the consistent performance of the lettermen from last year promised well for a successful track season.

Associated Students

With two hundred sixty-five student members the Associated Students this year reached a higher standard of better school government and a greater interest in school activities than ever before.

This is clearly shown in the business-like manner and co-operative spirit of the students which made our basketball season a decided success. Also, a much needed electric clock system was installed through the efforts of the students in the Curtis Publishing Company Contest.

The student council, organized last year by Miss Harris, is composed of the following representatives from the home rooms: Room 12, Everett Bundt; Room 10, Paul Wesson; Room 9, Helen Cyran; Room 7, Martha Shudshift; Room 6, Ken O'Laughlin; Room 5, Earl Apker; Room 4, Louise Contento; Mech. Dr. Room, Thelma Maurstad; Room 1 R., Bessie Blake; and Room 11, Charles Peterson. It is the purpose of this organization to afford more direct contact between the students and the school government and to promote interest in activities. Through this system the ticket sales staged were successful, the home rooms valiantly contesting for the much coveted first and second salesmanship banners.

The Board of Control, composed of two faculty advisors—Miss Harris and Mr. Shidler, and the five officers of the student body—Luke Tyrrell, President; Les Williams, Vice-President; Monica Krauskoff, Secretary; Douglas Krauter, Treasurer; and Bill Winsor, Business Manager, led the student body through the progressive and financially successful school year.

The Torch Society of the Arlington High School, created for the purpose of encouraging scholarship, has become a real live-wire club this year, and has aroused a great deal of interest among the students.

Points are awarded to students for scholarship and for holding responsible offices in the high school. Students are awarded one-bar pins, two-bar pins and torches, in Sophomore, Junior and Senior years, respectively, providing they have earned the required number of points. Seniors having one hundred and ten or more points are allowed to keep their torches.

This club has been progressing rapidly since it was organized in 1925. It is now one of the leading organizations of the school, having enrolled this year forty members.

The following have earned torches:

Frank Arnot
Everett Bundt
Borghild Gilbert
Ruth Lowe

The Vocational Club of the Arlington High School is composed of boys who have taken either Manual Training or Agriculture. The purpose of this club is to establish good fellowship among boys interested in vocational subjects.

The meetings are held twice each month. The club being chiefly interested in sports, games such as basketball and baseball are played. At the close of the meetings lunch is generally served.

The club this year has been very successful. Much of the credit for this success is due our adviser, Mr. Boyer, who has worked faithfully for the enjoyment of the club's members.

The T. O. T. Club has made an enviable record in Arlington High School. The original purpose of this club was to stimulate interest in science and literature and to afford pleasure and entertainment to its members. It was organized on September 20, 1927, as a combination of the former literary and science clubs. The name, T. O. T., was submitted by Ward Bowman, and means "Topics of Today." Its meetings, which are scheduled for the first Tuesday in every month, were supposed to consist of a literary and scientific program, usually presented in the auditorium and an entertainment of music and dancing in the gymnasium. Due to the difficulty in preparing a scientific program the club voted to dispose of the science and have the program entirely literary.

Among some of the good times that the members of this club this year enjoyed were: a Valentine dance, a May-Day party, and the annual club picnic which was held at Williams', Lake Stevens.

—CATHERINE SILL.

Eagle Club

The Eagle Club, an organization of all the letter men of all sports, made its initial appearance late in the fall of 1929. The main purpose of the organization is to foster a better Arlington High School spirit, better school loyalty, and better support of athletics. The name, Eagle Club, was selected as symbolizing the school spirit.

With Coach Shidler as adviser, Bill Winsor as president, Martin Hoidal as vice-president, and Syd Pautzke as secretary-Treasurer, the club made a commendable record for the year. They won four basketball ticket sales, being beaten only once by the Big A Club. They also won the annual sale contest.

Knights of the Paddle

CAPTAIN .....Stanley Robinson

FACULTY ADVISER .....M. F. Barnett

The Knights of the Paddle were organized last year to take the place of the student vigilance committee. This organization performs many useful duties throughout the year, all of them in connection with athletic contests. It is the duty of the members to watch the fence, line the field, and do anything necessary to make the meets more successful.

This work establishes the club as one of the most useful organizations in the Arlington High School. Much of the credit for the success of the organization should be given to M. F. Barnett, faculty adviser.

The members, who are chosen by vote, are:

Arthur Aberg	Joel Pederson
Laddie Christensen	Leonard Pittman
James Hauschildt	Stanley Robinson
Colin Johnstone	Rolf Ross
Conrad Lien	Rollen Speer
Charles Mathews	Vincent Stuller

National Forensic League

The National Forensic League was organized in 1925, to promote interscholastic forensic work. It has societies in every state in the Union. Membership in the League is based on the point system; points are awarded for participation in debate, declamation, extemporaneous speaking, and oratory. There are four degrees that are awarded for earning points in this type of work. They are: the degree of Merit, given for having earned ten points; the degree of Honor, for earning thirty points; the degree of Excellence, for earning sixty points; and highest of all, the degree of Distinction, which requires one hundred points. Very few high school students attain the highest degree.

In Class A, the class to which Arlington belongs, twelve points are given to the captain of the Debate team for each debate they have won, and eleven points are given to each of the other members of the team. Five points are given to each team member, and six to the team captain for debates that are lost. The person who wins an Oratorical or Declamatory contest gets one point for each school in the contest.

The Arlington chapter was organized on December 1, 1926. The present members are: Martin Bloxham, President; Ruth Lowe, Secretary; Martha Shudshift, Evelyn Olson, and Warren Bowman.

Annual Staff

ELDON PRATHER ..... Editor

DALE KAMM ..... Business Manager

We, the members of the staff of the 1930 Stillaguamish Trail, have endeavored to publish a book that by faithfully recording the events, organizations, personnel, and activities of Arlington High School during this school year, will serve in the future as a happy memento of those friendships, classes, teachers, classmates, accomplishments, and pleasures which formed the center of interest in your life in 1930. If we have to any considerable extent fulfilled this purpose, we are content.

It is fitting that we here publicly thank those who have contributed material and in other ways helped to make this annual a success. Especially do we wish to thank Mr. Boyer, whose assistance has been of the greatest value to us.

Orchestra

Although the A. H. S. Orchestra was not fully organized until the second semester under Miss Ayers' direction, much progress has been made during this school year. Forty students (some from grade school) responded to the call for recruits for the orchestra, and practice was held during the last half of the fourth and fifth periods.

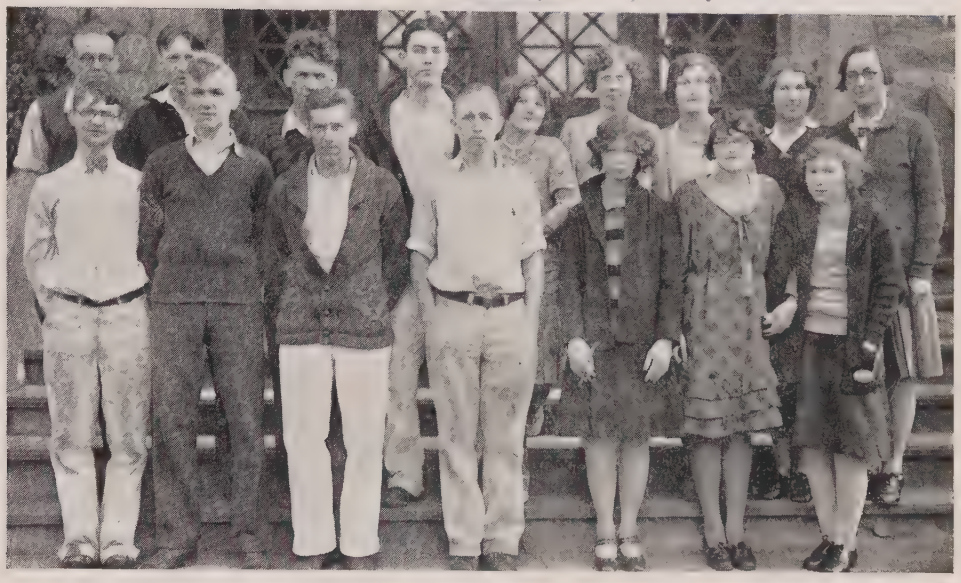
The orchestra attracted much favorable comment when it made its first appearance, assisting at the all-school play "Man or Mouse" on Friday, March 7. The orchestra also played several selections at the American Legion Vaudeville held in the High School auditorium, March 20, and assisted in the various other school productions during the remainder of the school year, notably the Senior Play on May 9 and 10.

By graduation the orchestra loses Dorothy Skillingstad and Ray Prather.

To Miss Ayers is due much credit for the remarkable progress made by the orchestra this year. With the orchestral ranks swelled by the incoming Freshmen, prospects for next year are bright.

Piano, Dorothy Skillingstad; drums, Bud Marxen and Dale Kamm; banjo, Joe Wagner; first trumpet, Clarence Fowler, Howard Mayo; second trumpet, Ken O'Laughlin, Edwin Kimball; trombone, Howard Kitchen; baritone, George Snelson; B flat tenor sax, Ray Prather; clarinet, Warren Bowman; E flat alto sax, Elving Kronholm, Jack Peterson, Douglas Krauter; C melody sax, Don Leach, Don Scott; first violins, Gertrude Wallitner, Eugene Mayo, Helen Cyran, Norman Heaven; second violins, Evelyn Bergdahl, Velda Smoker, Roy Henning, Elizabeth Van Zandt, Ora Singleton, Jessie Beebe; altos, Halvard Fjarlie; picolos, James Hauschildt, Colin Johnstone.

—Maxine Stout



Mixed Chorus

One of the musical attractions of the Arlington High School this year was the Mixed Chorus of girls' and boys' voices organized by Miss Ayres. This organization successfully took the place of the girls' and boys' glee clubs during the second semester of the school year.

The mixed chorus made its first formal appearance on March 7 when it sang several numbers at the production of the all-school play "Man or Mouse."

Those graduating this year are Ray Prather, Katherine Johnstone, Anna Mangis, and Dorothy Skillingstad.

The Mixed Girls' and Boys' Chorus under the direction of Miss Ayres has been very successful, and we hope that it will become a fixed organization of the Arlington High school.

The following composed the chorus:

Tenors: George Seigel, Ray Prather, George Snelson and Charles Mathews.

Sopranos: Katherine Johnstone, Lena Hoidal, Anna Mangis, Dorothy Skillingstad.

Basses: Dale Kamm, Edwin Kimball, Clinton Walcher, Bill Hill, Joe Wagner.

Altos: Kate Hart, Rena Amy, Ruth Shannon, Irene Hoidal.

Boys' Quartet

As one of the most popular musical organizations of the Arlington High School, the Boys' Quartet, under the instruction of Miss Ethel Ayres, has accomplished much in the way of musical entertainment this year.

Besides assisting at various school assemblies throughout the year, the Boys' Quartet was invited to sing at numerous banquets by the following organizations: the Lion's Club, the T. O. T. Club, the Commercial Club, the Methodist Church, and the Snohomish County Lettermen's Banquet.

This year the quartet presented an act in the annual High School Vaudeville on Friday and Saturday nights, October 11 and 12.

Members of the quartet this year gained a greater knowledge of part singing than ever before.

Much credit for the popularity and success of the Boys' Quartet is due Miss Ayres, the director.

Members of the quartet are:

First Tenor	Raymond Prather
Second Tenor	Emmett Thompson
First Bass	George Siegel
Second Bass	Dale Kamm

—Maxine Stout

1930 Debate

Student interest in debate seemed to blaze higher this year as the Eagle squad, debating on the question "Resolved: That Interscholastic and Intercollegiate Athletics as at present conducted are Detrimental," invaded and won from Everett, defeated Edmonds at home, lost to Mount Vernon, and swept through to a win from Ferndale here to close a hard season with three out of four clashes won.

Last fall, with only two experienced debators left from last year, Coach Rose Donovan faced an uncertain future with a negative team composed of Martha Shudshift, Evelyn Olson, and Martin Bloxham, and with Ruth Lowe, Warren Bowman, and Martin Bloxham forming the affirmative squad. But experience came as the teams cinched county honors and took third in the district. This is the third successive year in which the county banner in debate has come to rest in the Arlington High School at the close of the season.

—Martin Bloxham

The Declamation contest this year was held December 6 at Marysville. Arlington's representatives were: Bethene Collins, dramatic; Martin Bloxham, oratorical; and Martha Shudshift, humorous. Martin placed second, and Martha first in their respective divisions. (Bethene's place was unannounced.)

Instead of having a semi-final and a final contest as has been the custom, only one contest was held this year.

The purpose of this paper is: To promote school spirit, to foster traditions, and to cultivate a closer relationship with the community.

The "Arlington Eagle" as published since March, 1929, is printed every two weeks at The Arlington Times printing office. It is now a four-page, five-column paper, publishing three hundred and fifteen inches of news and advertisements.

A special experimental edition of the "Eagle," in the form of a sixteen-page magazine, was published in the last of February. It is planned to have a similar magazine printed every year to serve as a student hand-book.

June Marxen served as editor-in-chief of the Arlington Eagle until April, when, upon her resignation, Dale Kamm was appointed to the position.

The First All-School Play

"Daddy Long Legs," the first all-school play of the season, directed by Miss Gwendolyn Showell, played to a packed and enthusiastic house on December 13 and 14. The play, a charming tale containing both laughs and tears, was the story of Judy, a little orphan drudge in a New England asylum. One day a visiting trustee became interested in Judy and decides to give her a chance. She does not know the name of here benefactor but simply calls him "Daddy Long Legs." She then goes to a fashionable college for girls and makes many friends. In the last act she finally learns that Jervis Pendleton, her lover, and "Daddy" are the same person.

"Man or Mouse"

The second all-school play of the year, "Man or Mouse," under the able direction of Miss Gwendoline Showell, was a great success. The plot was as follows:

The Willoughbys and the Van Horns have long been associated in social and business enterprises. Russell Van Horn, just out of college, accepts Jonathan Willoughby's offer to place him in charge of one of his road construction gangs. Russell encounters violent opposition from Joe Dawson, junior member of the construction company of which his father is the head. Joe is in love with Peggy Lou McFadden, daughter of Mrs. McFadden, proprietress of the Homestead Hotel. Peggy Lou is attracted to Joe because he possesses the fighting spirit with which she herself is richly endowed. Ruesell, who is also in love with her, is a physical coward. Capitalizing on this, Joe arrays his forces against the young engineer. However, Peggy Lou finally brings Russell to a realization of his cowardice. The result is that in a fight with Joe Russell is victorious. After that he is not afraid and faces life bravely with Peggy Lou to help him.

The stage force managed by Frank Pulliam, consisted of George Seigel and Orvis Forbes.

TYPING DEPARTMENT

Interest in typing this year has been much greater than in previous years. Over one hundred students, or nearly one-third of the school, are enrolled in the department, which is under the direction of Miss Ethel Ayers. Special stress has been laid on accuracy but in spite of this many more awards have been earned than ever before.

Arlington sent Helen Verd, Lorena Beath, and Evelyn Olson in the first year division, and Zelma Larama, Bessie Shequin, and Doris Carlson in the second, to the county contest. Helen Verd won first place for speed in her division. Besides those who were in the county contest Arlington also sent Dorothy Skillingstad and Ray Prather in the first year and Marcella Meyer in the second, to the state contest.

A typing party was held on April 25, where a novel track meet was held and the weary competitors revived with ice cream and cake.

High School Songs

"ALMA MATER"

Hail! Hail! Oh Arlington! Noble and strong;
To thee with loyal hearts,
We raise our song.
Swelling to heaven loud,
Our praises ring;
Hail! Hail! Oh Arlington. Of thee we sing!

Majesty as a crown rests on thy brow,
Pride, Honor, Glory, Love,
Before thee we bow,
Ne'er can thy spirit die,
Thy walls decay;
Hail! Hail! Oh Arlington. For thee we pray!

(Tune, Pennsylvania Alma Mater)

THE COLORS

Three cheers for the Blue and the Gold,
Arlington's colors forever!
We'll fight for them proud to uphold
And carry them on to victory!
We hope that
..... may long rue the day
When she met the Eagle team in battle.
Come on, team, you're wearing today
The Blue and Gold!
The Blue and Gold must fight forever!

(Tune, Stars and Stripes Forever)

PEP SONG

Every man will fight for Arlington,
Every man will yell for Arlington!
See those Eagles go; now they're all the show!
Oh! Boy! Come on, Arlington!
There they go; they're down the field again,
Watch them fight; they're near the goal again.
Hail! Hail! The gang's all here
When it's come on, come on, Arlington.

RAH! ARLINGTON

Rah! Rah! For Arlington,
Arlington must win.
Fight to the finish, never give in.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
You do your best, boys;
We'll do the rest, boys.
Rah! Rah! For Arlington must win.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Rah! Rah! For Arlington must win.

Junior Prom

The Junior Prom of 1930 was held in the A. O. U. W. Hall on the evening of March 28. The decorations were in coral and white, the Senior colors. The entry hall and check room were decorated with streamers of alternating coral and white. Over the lights in the main hall were hung big balls from which streamers reached to an immense ball of solid white which hung from the center of the hall. The orchestra stand was cleverly decorated with streamers and roses. Punch was served from the adjoining dining room, which was similarly decorated.

Excellent music was furnished throughout the evening by Loney's Dance Band.

The dance programs, which were in blue and gold with gold printing on the covers, were very attractive.

Not considering finances, the Prom was a huge success and was enjoyed by everyone who attended.

Freshman-Sophomore Party

On November 15 the Frosh and Sophs met for their annual party.

The gym was decorated by the Frosh in the Sophomore colors, lavendar and white alternating. Pumpkins and fir boughs added a Thanksgiving time atmosphere.

A program and stunts were presented, and exciting contests were staged by opposing sides. Later on dancing was enjoyed.

Everyone then went to the cafeteria where the Freshmen served ice cream and wafers. Afterward dancing was resumed in the gym until the students departed, having thoroughly enjoyed their annual party.

County Football Banquet

On Tuesday evening, December 3, the annual Snohomish County Lettermen's banquet was held at the Arlington Congregational Church. Delegates attended from thirteen schools: Arlington, East Stanwood, Edmonds, Everett, Gold Bar, Granite Falls, Lake Stevens, Marysville, Monroe, Mukilteo, Stanwood, Snohomish, and Sultan.

Hec. Edmundson, University of Washington track and basketball coach, the principal speaker, spoke on sportmanship, the training and sacrifices that an athlete must make, the Carnegie Foundation, and the commercialization of athletics.

Larry Westerweller, star University of Washington end and president of the Big W Club, also spoke.

Coach Shidler was toastmaster of the evening: Talks were made by men from each of the schools represented.

The banquet was served by the high school girls. Entertainment was provided by the A. H. S. music department, with two numbers by Johnny Shannon and Art Nelson.

Much credit for the success of the banquet is due to the efforts of Mr. Hartz, principal, and Coach Shidler.

School Celebrities

BILL WINSOR spent several years in Sedro-Woolley, his home being there. Among his first playthings was a stuffed jack rabbit. This affected his mental reflexes and caused him to grow up with an obscession for high hurdles. Bill is quite good at this when properly startled with the startler's gun.

SYD PAUTZKE finally discovered his talent (two bit piece) when he crashed into dramatics. His specialty is the deep, dark villian. Syd has tried athletics and has a good engine, but his clutch slips, and he can't get started until it is all over.

BESSIE SHEQUIN is training as a successor to Miss Harris as athletic director. She swings a mean tennis racket, and heaves a wicked baseball. Her specialty, however, is swimming. Between times she lets Mr. Hartz help her run the school.

BOB BOURSAW is the Rudolph Valentino of the High School. Bob pursued many girls without success, but finally, by training for track, he was enabled to catch up with a small one. Bob also ambled over the high hurdles pretty well when he could get an outside lane and only have to jump them with one leg.

DOROTHY SKILLINGSTAD plays the lead when the play requires a lovely lady. Dorothy has many suitors, but none of them seem to suit'er. Beside dramatics Dorothy's chief claim to fame is the way she can make the piano set up and beg.

BILL MURPHY is the only inmate of Arlington High who can make William Jennings Bryan and Will Rogers look silly. When Bill opens his mouth and shuts his eyes wit and wisdom flow on automatically until he finally sings himself to sleep. Bill also busted into print as the organizer and officers of the Big X Club.

EVELYN OLSON has red hair and wears it every day. She can talk an arm off a wooden Indian. She talked herself into several sales championships and then got on the debate team and nearly talked them into the same fix. Her gentle voice may be heard at almost any time by listening intently.

EMMETT THOMPSON hails from the wilds of Lakewood and has in stock the largest assortment of hand made, assorted, selected, new and second hand alibis that has ever been assembled by one person. It is conservatively estimated that he has enough left to last him for two more years.

BILL HILL is the lovely lady of the masculine contingent. Put Bill into a little paint, powder, chiffon, and millenery, and the boys can't help but love her. Bill's other specialty is spring fever. Bill has been training to be a general for the past two or three years.

Freshman Rules of Conduct

ADOPTED BY GIRLS' LEAGUE

1. Don't slap, push, or strangle any boy you're walking with. Remember you are in high school now.

2. Don't roll your stockings. If you must roll something get a hoop.

3. Don't have designs on Jack Frame. He will probably never marry. Anyway you're just a green little Freshman.

4. Always act like a lady. If your hands are cold sit on them.

5. Remember these few simple rules when eating·

   Don't fan your soup with your hat, also remember that soup should be seen and not heard.

   Don't try to eat your salad with your fingers. It isn't being done this year.

   Don't eat with your knife. It may have a sharp edge.

   Don't leave the spoon in the cup when drinking coffee, as one's eyesight may be permanently impaired by so doing.

   Don't attempt to talk with your mouth full; that is, not too full.

6. Don't shove anyone down the assembly stairs. They have lots of tardy slips in the office anyway.

7. Don't chew gum in the assembly. The consequences may be fatal.

Jokes

Careless of the Butcher

Grocer: "Who broke the window when I was out?"
Delivery boy: "The butcher did, sir. He ducked when I threw a potato at him."

Slightly deaf old gent: "I want one package of these pills."
Druggist: "Yes, sir; twenty-five cents."
Old gent lays nickel on counter and starts out.
Druggist: "Pardon me, sir, it is twenty-five cents, not five."
Deaf old gentleman walks on out, not hearing.
Druggist: "Oh well then, I made three cents on it anyhow."

Maybe the Monkeys

"I thought of you all day yesterday."
You did? How nice. What were you doing?"
"I was at the zoo."

Mr. Frame: "Who was the smallest man in history?"
John Marshall: "The Roman soldier who slept on his watch."

"Jack fell out of his car the other day and nearly broke his peninsula."
"His what?"
"Peninsula. A long neck stretching out to see."

Mr. Barnett was lecturing on the rhinoceros. Seeing that some of the class were allowing their minds to wander, he said: "I must beg you to give me your undivided attention. It is absolutely impossible for you to form a true idea of this hideous animal unless you keep your eyes fixed on me."

"Jimmie," said the merchant solemnly at the eleventh hour, "we have forgotten to get more stamps."

"Gee, Sir," said the office boy, "so we have. If we ain't a couple of blunder-headed idiots."

"Did you hear about the wooden wedding?"
"I'll bite."
'Two Poles were married."

Salesman: "What's the name of this town?"
Wide Trousers: "I couldn't say, I just go to college here."

Real estate agent: "I tell you, sir, the death rate in this suburb is lower than in any other party of the country."

Near Victim: "I believe you. I wouldn't be found dead here myself."

"Stammering is my peculiarity. What's yours?"
"I'm not aware that I have any.
"Do you stir your coffee with your right hand?"
"Why yes, of course."
"Well, that's your peculiarity. Most people use a teaspoon."

Private J. P. Jay marched up to his colonel and saluted. "I would like a leave of absence, Sir.'
"What for?" querried the officer.
"My wife wants me to help her move, Sir."
"I don't like to refuse you," said the colonel, "but I've just received a letter from your wife saying that she does not want you to come home because you're more bother than help."

The soldier saluted and turned to go. At the door he stopped and remarked: "Colonel, there are two persons in this regiment who handle the truth loosely, and I'm one of them. I'm not married."

Mrs. Mulligan: "Pat, didn't the docther lave yez inny midicine?"

Mr. Mulligan: "Not a bit. He'd have me makin' a billy-goat of mesilf—takin' this piece av paper ivry three hours."

It was the old lady's first ride in a taxi, and she watched with alarm the driver continuously putting his hand outside the car as a signal to the traffic following. At last she became angry.

"Young man," she cried, "you look after the driving and watch where you are going. I'll tell you if it starts raining."

"Why did you leave at the end of the first act?"

"Well, take a look at the program here. The second act takes place in two year's time."

Young Brother: "Father, I think it's awful. The baby is ten months old and hasn't a tooth yet—and you a dentist."

"I want some winter underwear."

"How long?"

"How long?" I don't want to rent 'em; I want to buy 'em."

Stage hand (to manager, sotto voce): "Shall I lower the curtain?"

Manager: "Why?"

Stage hand: "One of the livin' statues has the hiccups."

A Tragedy

'Twas in a restaurant they met,
Young Romeo and Juliet,
And there he first got into debt,
For Romeo'd what Juliet!

Syd P.: "This wind chills me to the bone."
Agnes B.: "Silly, wear a hat."

Soph.: "Have you ever taken chloroform?"
Frosh. (making out program): "No, let's see, what period does it come?"

Ray P.: "So she praised my singing did she?"
Eldon P.: "Yes, she said it was heavenly."
Ray: "Did she really say that?"
Eldon: "Well, just about. She said it was unearthly."

Umpire (at baseball game): "Foul."
Smart lad: "Where's the feathers?"
Umpire: "My boy, this is a picked team."

"Say, Skinny, can you dig up a girl for tonight?"
"Sure, but wouldn't you rather have a live one?"

Les W.: "Did you take a shower?"
Luke T.: "No, is one missing?"

Miss Showell: "What is a paradox?"
Jack J.: "Two wharves."

First Girl: "How do so many boys get killed off in football?"
Second Girl: "They kick off."

Miss Fjarlie was instructing Freshmen in the use of antonyms. "Now, children," she said, "what is the opposite of sorrow?"

"Joy," shrieked the class in unison.

"What is the opposite of pleasure?"

"Pain."

"And what is the opposite of woe?"

"Giddap," says John Jackson.

"What's the idea of that set of traffic lights over the mantle?" inquired the young man calling on Monica.

"It's father's idea," she explained. "The red stays on until ten o'clock. Then he flashes on the green. And you know," she added, "he used to be a traffic cop."

Miss Susman: "Have you ever heard of two worms fighting in dead earnest?"
Sympathetic female: "Oh, poor Earnest."

Miss Ayres: "Who can tell me the national air of Italy?"
Dale Kamm: "Garlic."

Oh, it's easy to laugh at a joke every time
Someone else gets it right in the neck;
But the man who's worth while is the man who can smile
When the joke is on him, by heck.

Have you ever noticed how easy it is for some of the teachers to shake a piece of chalk with that "seven come eleven" motion?

Monica K. (upon receiving a beautiful boquet): "Oh! Aren't they wonderful? I see there's a little due on them yet."

Martin H. (flustrated): "Don't worry about that. I'll settle that next month."
Helen: "Remember when we first met in the revolving door at the post office?"
Elmer: "But that wasn't the first time we met!"
Helen: "Well, that's when we started going around together."

Miss Payne: "What is a waffle?"
Helen Krauskoff: "A waffle is a pancake with cleats."

Miss Douglas: "Who is your favorite author?"
Bill M.: "My dad."
Miss D.: "What did he ever write?"
Bill: "Checks."

Mr. Barnett: "Now students, it is the law of gravitation that keeps us on the earth."
Norman H.: "But how did we ever stick on before the law was passed?"

Mr. Jacobson: "Where were you last night?"
Carrol: "Just riding around with the boys."
Mr. Jacobson: "Well, next time tell those boys not to leave their powder puffs in the car."

First Farmer: "I've got a freak on my farm—a two-legged calf."
Second Farmer: "I know. He came over to call on my daughter last night."
